Distance learning? Blended learning?

“The term open and distance learning reflects both the fact that all or most of the teaching is conducted by someone removed in time and space from the learner, and that the mission aims to include greater dimensions of openness and flexibility, whether in terms of access, curriculum or other elements of structure.” (Unesco, 2002)

Blended learning: alternation between distance learning and classical lessons
Strengths

- High level of autonomy – the learner in the driver’s seat
- Strengthen the learning process
- Very realistic/functional content
- Interactivity - immediate feedback possibility
- Opens access to learning for certain isolated target groups
Focus

- 370,000 adult learners every year
  - 80,000 learners in basic skills programmes

- EQF level 2 – 5*
- VET, languages, IT-programmes

Policy measures

Parliamentary Act on Adult Education of 2007: financial incentive for blended learning (art. 28)

→ 120% financial incentive for modules > 25%
→ 200.000 € for bigger projects

=> 2017: 52.835 AL in blended modules (>25%) in CAE and CABE
No miracle solution

Online learning is not a miracle solution, and is not for everyone - requires
• IT skills
• communication skills
• self-reflection capacity
• study skills
• discipline and
• guidance
2 concrete cases...
A glance at the near future

- 120% financial incentive for modules > 25%
  => ends sept. 2019

- 200,000 € for bigger projects... option to expand and open up towards all innovative methodologies.
Thank you!
